Relaxing with Sedation Dentistry

By: Dr. Michael A. Wong

Are dental fears keeping you or someone you know from having a healthy mouth? Are you one of the millions of people who have put off going to the dentist because of the anxieties and fears associated with some types of dental care? Has it been 5,10,15 even 20 years since you last had any dental treatment? Would you appreciate relaxing into a very comfortable chair, covered with a thick, warm, cozy blanket... while your experienced team takes care of your dental needs? If you answered yes to any of these questions, then sedation dentistry can help?

By taking safe and effective relaxing medication, all your anxiety about dentals care are removed. As a matter of fact, most people remember very little about their visit, except that all their dental work was completed while they were sedated. There are several different sedation methods and Dr. Wong will help you decide which one is best for your situation. We have cassette tapes available with information and interviews with patients who have used sedation.

Sedation dentistry has been very successful in treating the dental phobic and allows me to complete more dental work in one visit than would be possible under normal circumstances. I have worked with many dental phobic patients to help them over come them faster and achieve great dental health.:"
